West Midlands Cultural Offer

FREE Event on the theme of Families.

Book your place now!

The first in a series of events working towards a regional Cultural Offer for Children and Young People, this event will focus on engagement with Families.

Keynote speaker: Juliette Collier

Head of Family Learning, Campaign for Learning

Event to include: best practice case studies from the national Find Your Talent pathfinders and around the region; practical workshops that explore how we can work together more effectively and an opportunity to network with a variety of colleagues across your area.

This event is open to local authority arts and education officers, youth workers, cultural organisations and children's services working within the West Midlands.

Background

Over the next five years, the Government is committed to developing a comprehensive cultural offer. This will ensure that all children and young people - no matter where they live or what their background - have the chance to participate in at least five hours of high quality culture a week, in and out of school.

The Cultural Offer is being piloted as Find Your Talent in ten pathfinder areas across England and is funded by the Department for Culture, Media and Sport, the department for Children, Schools and Families, Arts Council England and the Museums Libraries and Archives Council.

In September 2009, freelance consultant Maria Howes was appointed as Regional Co-ordinator, to engage local authorities and cultural providers in the West Midlands and look at how the Cultural Offer can be rolled out across the region.

This event is free, but places must be booked in advance!
